Dear NH Gospel Radio Listeners,

This long-awaited season brought with it, seemingly; birds chirping louder, flowers blooming larger, and a sun that shines brighter. Or is it just our perspectives that have been freshly skewed through the sheer curtains of our shelter-in-place? As is written in Ecclesiastics chapter three, we know there is a time for absolutely everything. Although most of us welcome the seasons of “good” things, we cannot ignore that the time allotted for those things we do not deem to be so good, must also have their ordained place. It is best at such times to focus on the lovely that will be birthed out of the harder pressing, and even ugly encounters. Like a chunk of black coal destined to become a diamond, we know it happens, but it takes a leap of faith in the interim until we see the brilliance of the interplay of light through clear facets. Things happen according to God’s promise and His working!

If you are reading this letter, chances are you have been instrumental in helping others see Jesus, the Light of the World through the voice of NH Gospel Radio. We receive letters and hear testimonies of how NH Gospel Radio has been a catalyst toward salvation and a platform of teaching, equipping, and directing the hearts of those who hear. Bible teaching and preaching is one antidote to counteract a culture spiraling out of control. The Truth that never changes and is the only plumb-line and hope for humanity is what we strive to promote. Although unseen by you, your involvement in this ministry makes a difference and touches lives across our state and slides into people’s private little worlds even as they drive alone in their cars, day after day from place to place. We are privileged to be a part of this uncharted and vast territory each, and every, day. Thank you for voyaging with us. Together with Christ, we can weather the storms of life even if they are just in our living room.

Local Radio? - Many people like to buy locally to support their immediate community. If you do a quick Google search, you will find reasons for buying local from, creating one-of-a-kind businesses to keeping your local economy financially robust. Many of us never think about supporting local radio. We may just turn on the switch and twist the dial to a plethora of all manner of sounds and words in varying degrees of attitudes and not think about where they come from. We are thankful that we have choices and although we do not air much local content, New Hampshire Gospel Radio is local and has many local expenses such as an employee and tower sites with rent, and equipment just to name a few. Also, our local studio is available for various ministry-related recordings, and underwriting announcements and we encourage those who are willing to drop by and voice their announcements that lead people to a closer relationship with Jesus Christ at NH Gospel Radio... your favorite Christian Radio Station (we hope:).
